Discussion (The who, what, when, where and how of the Best Practice, e.g., components of the function, organization (staff responsibilities, command and control), resources needed (money, people, supplies, transportation, and equipment) timeline from planning to completion, etc.): Who - Both platoon's          What - Commander's Cup          When - Throughout the year until the ball          Where - Nokomis RHS, Formations          How - Earn points through participating in a variety of events including the cadet challenge, fundraising, formation challenges, community service, and by having cadet and NCO's of the month within your company.          Resources - Involved Cadets          Purpose - Better involve members of the battalion, increase morale and 'esprit de corp' in the battalion. The commander's cup was also designed to bring the platoons together and bring a sense of companionship and comradery to the the cadets.
We all do some things better than others. Likewise, some JROTC units are better at some things than other JROTC units. We call those Best Practices. We think that the "best" best practices come from the best units. If your unit's day-to-day performance is a reflection of your accomplishments on JLAB Level I and Level II, and we think that it is, then we believe your unit to be among the best. We want you to tell us about your best practice(s). Complete and submit this form on one or more of your unit's best practices. Use a separate form for each Best Practice. Be detailed in your report so that the other 3,400+ JROTC units in the country with whom we will share it can read and execute it without questions! This report form is designed to expand as you type. It should accommodate your report without attachments. Should that not be the case, submit your report(s) in a format that works for you. Please name your file with your school name. Below is a non-all-inclusive list of possible unit best practices.
